"We have heard the learned counsel for the parties at length. We observe that mandate of our judgment was to hold centralised entrance test followed by centralised state counselling by the State to make it a one composite process. We, therefore, direct that admission to all medical seats shall be conducted by centralised counselling only by the State Government and none else.

If any counselling has been done by any College or University and any admission to any medical seat has been given so far, such admission shall stand cancelled forthwith and admission shall be given only as per centralised counselling done by the State Government."

In view of the orders passed by Hon'ble Supreme Court, clause 9A of the PGMER will supersede the second part of clause 9(7) and all admissions will be made through common counselling and not by the concerned medical colleges/institutions. Since the PG counselling for session 2018-19 is going on, it is hereby reiterated that the State Governments shall conduct common counseling for all PG courses in all medical institutions located in the State including for management and NRI quota seats. There shall be no exemption whatsoever.
